President's Message

by Art Church

Dear fellow cottagers and residents of Belmont Lake. Spring, with its promise of summer, has finally arrived. For some, spring marks the end of snowmobiling, cross-country skiing, and snowshoeing on and around the lake, while for others spring marks the beginning of swimming, boating, waterskiing, fishing and fond memories. What could be better! Belmont Lake continues to provide clean water, a home for indigenous and migratory species alike and our civility towards one another continues to accommodate a wide variety of lake activities.

Your Belmont Lake Cottagers' Association has been active this year on a number of fronts: the continuing development of our Lake Plan; a revised constitution; the creation of a BLCA web site; assisting the Federation of Ontario Cottager's Association (FOCA), in the creation of an insurance plan for cottage associations; and working with local and provincial government departments on a variety of issues that impact cottaging. Some of these various projects are outlined in greater detail in accompanying newsletter articles.

Our Annual General Meeting will be held on July 2, at 9:30 a.m. at the Cordova Mines Recreation Centre. I do hope you will be able to attend, as it affords such a good opportunity to meet one another. I look forward to seeing you at the annual meeting and please accept my best wishes for a safe and enjoyable summer.

Summer Events

by Sylvie Samson

Another winter has gone by, a bit more snow than last year, but very enjoyable. Last summer we initiated some new activities like the dock sale and the parade of lights. I must say that for our first attempt, it was a success. So this year we are keeping those activities and adding a few more. We hope you are able to participate. Here's the lineup:

- ♦ AGM: July 2nd, 2005, at 9:30 a.m. Cordova Recreation Hall.

- ♦ Dock sale: Saturday, July 9th 10:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. (rain date: July 10th) Just like a garage sale, you display what you have for sale, or for free, on your dock. So get your boat out and go around the lake, because you may find something that you want! Brew a pot of coffee or tea and bake cookies. You might even sell them!
- ♦ Regatta: August long weekend July 31st at noon (rain date: August 1st).
- ♦ Parade of Lights: Saturday, July 30, 9:30 p.m. (rain date: Sunday, July 31st). Use your imagination to dress up your boat. Meet us there or join in as we go along. The starting point will be Taylor's Bay at 9:30 p.m. From Taylor's Bay we will go south on the west side of the lake, around Big Island. If the water level is high, we will do a longer tour. The parade will end north of Big Island. Last year we had quite a few boats joining in as we cruised by, which was great. Cottagers who stayed at the cottage to enjoy the parade, provided wonderful support. Thank you for all of your cheers. Let's make this parade of lights even more spectacular! *Safe Boating: Let's keep a single line with a safe distance between each boat.
- ♦ NEW! Celebrate the 2003 blackout. August 12th, 13th and 14th. In the spirit of appreciating our night sky we are asking you to turn off your outside lights (for safety, use flashlights) and enjoy the stars. Hopefully you will also see shooting stars, as they usually occur around those dates.
- ♦ NEW! Fall walk: Saturday September 24th. Book the date. More details to come.

Web Site

By Sylvie Samson

BLCA's very own web site is under construction at the writing of this article:

www.belmontlake.ca

The Association will be able to communicate very easily with those who have access to the internet.

To celebrate the launch of our web site we are having a photo contest. Send us, by regular mail, a printed photograph or email a high-density jpg image. Please include information, such as name, address and any details such as who, what, where and when. We will post some or all of them on the web site as soon as we are up and running. We are looking for pictures that best represent our lake in terms of safety and ecology. Historical images may also be of great interest. Photos will be accepted between now and September 5th 2005. Send up to 3 photos, if you like. Every contest needs a winner, so there will be one winning photo, which will be used for the cover of the finished Lake Plan coffee-table book. This publication will be a limited edition.

email address: photocontest@belmontlake.ca

(Note: by submitting your photograph(s), you grant BLCA permission to reproduce it in any publication or web site sponsored by BLCA.)

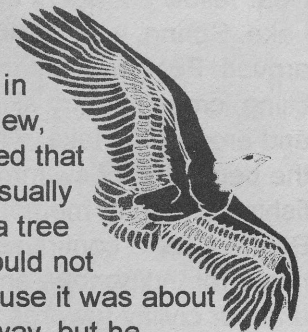

Water Quality Results for 2004 from the Ministry of the Environment Lake Partner Program

Thanks to Fred Carter for testing Belmont Lake water. The average secchi disk reading for 2005 on Belmont Lake was the same as it has been for the last few years, at 4.7 metres (mesotrophic, moderately enriched) and 8 ug/l, total phosphorous. We may begin to see a difference in the secchi disk readings because of the zebra mussels.

The Bald Eagle

By Art Church

Early one Friday morning late in September last year, my nephew, Christopher Church, announced that he had been watching an unusually large bird sitting at the top of a tree by the edge of the lake. He could not identify the bird for sure, because it was about four or five hundred metres away, but he thought it might be a bald eagle. We both studied the bird through binoculars, and decided that a more positive identification could only be made by getting closer to the bird. We were able to motor slowly to within about 100 metres, and, just as we confirmed that this indeed was a bald eagle, the magnificent bird took off and flew, with his six-foot wingspan, to perch on a pine tree on Miner's Island, where we observed it for about fifteen minutes. I am sure this is by no means the only sighting of a bald eagle on Belmont Lake, but it certainly was for us, and what a special treat it was!

Bald Eagle ---- Haliaeetus Leucocephalus

- ♦ 32" in length

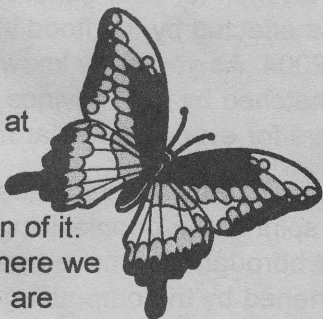

- ♦ 80" wing span [over 6 ft.!]
- ♦ diet consists mainly of fish, but will eat small mammals and other birds
- ♦ white upper neck and head
- ♦ white tail
- ♦ dark brown plumage
- ♦ yellow bill
- ♦ does not migrate great distances
- ♦ prefers wetlands and open water
- ♦ Distribution: The most concentrated populations may be found along the coastal regions of North America from Alaska to Washington on the west coast, and from Nova Scotia to Florida on the east coast. Small populations of low density may be found scattered throughout the continental U.S. and Canada, but they are very rare in our neck of the woods.

It pays to keep your eyes open at Belmont Lake. You never know what kind of a surprise the lake might serve up!

Lake Plan Report

By Jane Prendergast

The Lake Plan is moving at an accelerated speed now, and we are all very anxious for the completion of it. Here is an overview of where we have been and where we are going.

Our first official action was back in the spring of 2003 when we held a workshop in Havelock, for commercial operators. The attendees included representatives from various provincial and township government departments as well as local commercial business owners.

Shortly after that we sent out the Lake Plan Survey to all lake-front property owners. The response was more than we expected and the results were very supportive towards the Lake Plan.

The AGM last summer was primarily dedicated to our Lakefront Property Owners' workshop and was well attended by a very enthusiastic crowd. The feedback from both workshops has been overwhelmingly in favour of developing our own Belmont Lake Plan.

Most recently, Art Church, Randy French (French Planning) and I requested an informal meeting with the Township Council Members to share our actions to date and our vision for the future. Most importantly, we wanted to include our council in every step we take as we are all partners in the preservation of Belmont Lake.

The meeting was attended by the Reeve Ron Gerow, Deputy Reeve Robert Watson, HBM CEO Dianne Hill and Councillors Martin, Preston and Sharpe, and was indeed casual, candid and extremely helpful for all. We, as cottagers, can feel comfortable in that we have a council that not only appreciates our concerns and interest in Belmont Lake, but more importantly, wants to work with us to complete this important task.

Next steps:

The Lake Plan committee members are each undertaking to write the various sections that make up our Lake Plan. Ultimately, this document will be approximately 70 pages including maps, graphs and text. At the time of this article, we are unable to determine when the final Lake Plan will be available; however, we are hopeful that the Lake Plan Executive Summary, will be completed this summer.

Once the full document is complete, it will be presented to our Township Council for consideration towards possible additions / amendments to The Official Plan. Our goal is to complete the Lake Plan by the fall 2005.

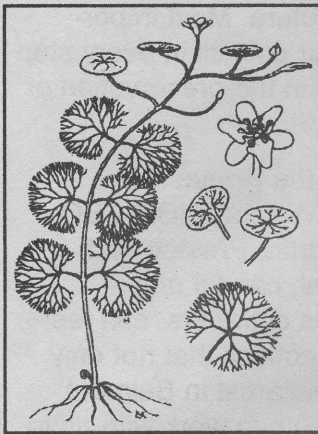

If you have any questions or concerns, or simply want to know more, please do not hesitate to contact us at the BLCA address.

Thank you all for your combined interest in the preservation of our beautiful Belmont Lake.

Invasive Species Alert!

By Art Church

As if we didn't have enough to contend with, such as zebra mussels, gypsy moths, and spiny water fleas, among others, it appears that there is yet another foreign invader poised at our shores. It is known as fanwort. Fanwort is a submerged aquatic plant native to South America. It has become very popular over the past few years as an aquarium plant because of its hardiness and tendency to reproduce at a terrific rate. It is these same qualities that make fanwort a less-than-desirable plant when introduced into a natural setting outside its normal range. Fanwort looks similar to some native Ontario aquatic plants, such as water marigold and white watercrowfoot. Its main stem may grow up to 10 metres and the underwater fan shaped leaves are finely divided and arranged opposite each other along the main stem. The plant produces floating leaves and small white to pale yellow flowers with three petals and yellow centres.

Fanwort was discovered in Kasshabog Lake in 1991. It has spread since then to North River and South Lake. (South Lake connects to Round Lake, and thus to Belmont Lake.) It is able to live in a variety of habitats: slow flowing waters, streams, small rivers, lakes, ponds and ditches. It prefers nutrient-rich shallow water. Although native to subtropical areas, fanwort is cold tolerant.

Once established, fanwort can form dense stands, displacing native vegetation and interfering with recreational uses, such as swimming and boating. Its long-term impact is not yet known.

You can help: Never empty the contents of your aquarium into any waterway. Not only is it illegal to do so in Ontario, but this is generally the most likely cause of infestation in lakes such as Kasshabog.

Since fragments of fanwort can grow into a fully functioning plant it can be spread between bodies of water on boats, in live wells and in outboard motor water systems. One should, therefore, take the same precautions when transporting a boat from lake to lake as one does for zebra mussels, namely, by removing any visible plants or mud from your boat, draining water from your motor, live well, bilge and transom wells while on dry land, rinsing your boat and equipment with hot tap water and drying your boat for at least 5 days before moving to another body of water.

Your BLCA has been meeting with representatives of the Ministry of Natural Resources, The Federal Department of Oceans and Fisheries, and the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters to discuss their plans for containing fanwort. These agencies are considering a number of strategies with respect to stopping the fanwort from spreading, and will be keeping our Association up to date on their progress. In the meantime BLCA will be undertaking a fanwort grid search on Belmont this summer to determine if the plant has taken hold in our lake.

Obituary

Donna Jean Richter passed away on Aug.31, 2004 at the age of 51. She was a life-long cottager with a passion for boating, skiing and kite flying. Donna and her husband, Dr. Marty Richter, served on the BLCA Executive in 1998 and assumed responsibility for our annual Regatta. Donna was a very giving and caring individual. She is missed by all those who knew her. A chiropractic student memorial scholarship has been created in her name c/o Anne Wilshire, 6100 Leslie Street, Toronto, ON M2H 3J1. Our deepest sympathies are extended to Donna's family.

Thank You Letters

City of Peterborough sent a letter of appreciation to Belmont Lake Cottagers' Association.

A MESSAGE OF APPRECIATION

On behalf of City Council and the citizens of Peterborough, I am writing to express my deep appreciation for your generous contribution to help those affected by the flood in Peterborough on July 15, 2004. As you likely know, your contribution will be matched by the Province of Ontario at two dollars for every one dollar raised for flood relief.

These are very difficult times for us, but the courage and spirit of the people living and working in the Peterborough area have been amazing. We are heartened by the outpouring of assistance from individuals, organizations, businesses and governments here in Peterborough and across the country.

Again, thank you for your help.

Sincerely yours,

Sylvia Sutherland

A Little Piece of Heaven

By Julian Connor

Not many miles from the bustle of the city
Beyond the reach of industries of business and gold
Beyond the grip of modern civilization and pretentious society
Beyond the endless stress and worries of a hyper world
No one remembers how, or why, or when it has been lost
But there I found,
A little piece of heaven,

Nestled on the shores of a lake of sparkling water
Surrounded by a curtain green of tall majestic pines
Where humming birds and cardinals and blue jays fly and tweeter
And dancing in the gentle breeze the flowers on the vines
Reminds us that there's still a bit of unspoiled Eden here
There is where I found
A little piece of heaven

When the morning sun begins to creep over the tops of the misty trees
And earth and sky blend in, to paint a picture on the lake
You can hear the call of the early loon and ducklings and the geese
Beauty and peace and tranquility relaxes soul and mind
That's where I found
A little piece of heaven

Then the evening softly stealing casts its shadows dark and long
And crimson hue of sunset gently fades the distant shore
The squirrels ceased their frolicking and the birds have hushed their song
And the rising moon comes to enhance a galaxy of stars
We've come to the end of another perfect day in paradise
And, it's here I found
Belmont my little piece of heaven.

We asked some people to tell us a little bit about what Belmont Lake was like "back then." The lake is full of interesting history. We invite you to submit stories and/or photographs for us to include in future newsletters and, possibly, the Lake Plan Book or other publications.

Submissions can be mailed to:

A little Glimpse into the Past

By Vivian Olsen

We came to Marmora in 1951. Harold was in charge of clearing off the area where the mine would be developed. Lucy was seven and Rob nine. I was 30 and Harold 36 years). We came as Landed Immigrants, to be reviewed each year.

Harold wanted a cottage. We were lucky to meet Walter and Agnes Van Steenburg and became good friends. Roger Young had been showing us property for a possible cottage site. He took us to Walter's even though many had tried to buy from him and Walter was not selling.

Walter told us to pick out an area where we would like to build. We were to have a survey done. Access to the point would be through the field. Two gates were to be installed, the one at the road, kept locked, and one between fields because Walter had cows.

It was a snowy day when we hiked out to the point. The two swamps were not frozen, so we had to jump from the logs and branches to the other side. Trees on the point were very thick and small. We brought the lumber we needed by boat from Archie Cummings bay. We built a toilet, picnic table and made forms for the cottage.

We were the only newcomers and got to be known as "The Johnny-Come-Latelies." There was one small cottage across the lake.

We hiked into the point until we built the road. We kept a small boat at what is now Heisey's to bypass the swamp.

It was a wonderful life. We had a sandy beach, excellent fishing and a boat. We used coal oil lamps for light and a cook stove for cooking. We drank the lake water, using halazone pills for safety, and ice from Roger Youngs for the ice box. This luxury living came after we built the cottage.

Archie Cumming had the fastest boat on the lake. He loved to ride the surfboard with him sitting on a chair. His brother, Jim, lived at the next cottage.

This was the start of forty-three years and counting on "Beautiful Belmont Lake."

I am pleased to present the unaudited financial statements for the Association for the year ended March 31st. 2005. Audited statement will be presented at the Annual General Meeting later this year.

Your Association has made a substantial commitment to the welfare of the lake and the preservation of the environment. The first essential initiative is to produce of a lake plan that will be financed over two fiscal periods. The budget for fiscal 2005 has paid a good portion of its total cost with the balance covered by the 2006 budget.

In order to maintain an active program on the lake we need to maintain and encourage new members.
